Do you remember when the wedding season was from June to September? Well, that is no longer the case! Our wedding season is now April through October and research has proven that wedding couples prefer in-home wedding planning during these months. Recognizing this, Lockett Shows is excited to bring planning directly to them with Lockett Virtual.

Lockett Shows is the largest and most respected consumer event promoter in Reno. Year after year the company continues to revise the events in an effort to keep them fresh and to meet the ever-changing needs of both the merchant and the consumer.

We made a solemn vow to our customers and our community that we would create a platform for them to meet, provide the answers to their customer's questions, and build an even stronger community. We would prove to couples that they have a strong community here to plan weddings.

Here's your opportunity to inspire hundreds of brides in just one day at Reno's LARGEST Bridal Shows which has moved to where brides are... in their homes, on their phones, on their computers, and pressed for time. Book your Virtual Booth in the Reno Bridal Shows, Virtual Reno Bridal & Beauty Expo.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Is there a leads list if I participate in the Virtual Bridal Show?

Yes, there is. It comes in an excel spreadsheet, just as it does with our live events

I am not tech-savvy. Is this going to be difficult?

This is not a difficult process at all. You will literally complete a form and your booth will appear in our virtual exhibit hall, ready for couples to arrive and speak to you on the day of the show. Too busy to man your booth? You don't have to...just don't setup Zoom or Chat. You are free for the day and let the show do the work for you!

I see a lot of events going "virtual", why?

Engaged couples are going to continue planning their weddings and they are in need of the same level of planning attention they get at our live events. This virtual option means we can still meet couples in a way that you can talk to them one-on-one, show them what you can provide for their wedding and setup an individual consultation with to discuss their personal needs.

Since this event is virtual, is it free?

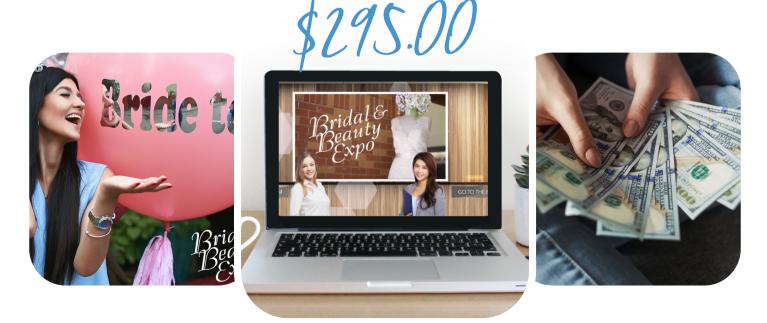

I wish it were. Even though we do not need to rent a hall, or drive out, or set up booths and electricity, handle registration, and those types of live event activities, we still need to pay for marketing to bring engaged couples to the virtual event, as well as pay for our virtual presence. If we don't market... no one knows we are all dressed and ready to receive them and help them plan their wedding. We are working very hard to bring this new platform to our exhibitors and will continue to be available ensuring you are ready to market yourself to couples in a virtual reality.

Are you too busy to attend a live event?

Our virtual presence will continue in concert WITH our live January event as an added value option for our exhibitors and couples. A virtual option for those who wish to plan from home and attend a bridal show or when the exhibitor is too busy to setup and attend a live event.

THERE'S MORE THAN ONE WAY TO MEET THE BRIDES!
